
Scope of vision & Range of capability	Follows specific rules for specific situations. Rules are not conditional. "Only capable of following the rules"	Begins to create and identify conditional rules. All decisions still follow rules. "Rules have nuance and become conditional in nature"	Learns organizing principals. Information sorting by relevance begins. "Higher order rules shape contexts and conditions"	Uses pattern recognition to assess what to do. Uses rules to determine how to do it. "Intuition aides in identifying the situation; the actions are governed by the principals"	No analysis or planning. Pattern recognition extends to plan as well as action. "Just does what works."
